Instructions

You must bring to your driving test, this form, your current learner licence, your 'Learner Driver Log Book' if one was issued to you or your digital Log Book version, your driver licence and enough money to pay for a new licence after your driving test. If you have a driver licence issued in another state, territory or country, you need to bring this licence with you. If your licence is not in English you must also bring an official translation, from either the Community Relations Commission (NSW) or the Translating and Interpreting Service of the Department of Immigration and Citizenship.

If you are a class C or LR licence applicant please ensure you have a copy of 'A guide to the Driving Test' book. If you are a heavy vehicle licence applicant (class MR, HR, HC) please ensure you have a copy of the 'Getting your heavy vehicle driver licence'. 'Getting your multi-combination driver licence' brochure. (these publications are available at your nearest service centre/ motor registry).

It is against the law to attempt to influence the result of a driving/riding test by offering any money, gift or favour to the testing officer or any employee of Service NSW/ Roads & Maritime Services. It is also against the law for any Service NSW/ Roads & Maritime Services employee to request or accept any money, gift or favour in relation to a licence from any driving instructor or applicant for a licence.

NOTE: Your test will be cancelled and a new fee will have to be paid if:

1. you are late for your appointment
2. you do not bring your learner licence or driver licence or, if required, proof of identity
3. the vehicle to be used is unregistered or defective
4. you appear to be under the influence of alcohol or other drugs

5. you do not give 24 hours notice to the testing centre (or the Contact Centre, telephone 13 22 13) to cancel this booking
6. the vehicle to be used for the test does not satisfy Service NSW/ Roads & Maritime Services seat belt requirements (see over) (applicant must supply appropriate test vehicle)
7. you do not follow the requirements listed on the back of this form

Please Note: Changes or cancellations via the internet, are required to be made at least 2 days prior to the existing booking date.

The vehicle to be used for the test (applicant must supply appropriate test vehicle)

Must be the right type for the licence class for which you are being tested.

Must display "L" plates, if you hold a learner licence

Must not be defective. Make sure -

1. the indicators and brake lights work and the lights' lenses are not broken, cracked or discoloured
2. the tyres are in good condition with sufficient tread ("Space Saver" spares are not permitted)
3. the windscreen is not cracked or damaged and any window tinting is to Service NSW/ Roads and Maritime Services standards
4. the vehicle is currently registered
5. the vehicle is clean.

See 'A guide to the Driving Test' for a full list of requirements.

Before the test When you drive to the testing centre you must be accompanied by an unrestricted licence holder who holds a licence for the class of vehicle (or higher) you are driving.

Make sure you arrive at the testing centre at least 15 minutes before the time of your appointment, park in the allocated area for driving test applicants. Take a ticket upon arrival at the Service Centre/Registry and proceed to the designated Driver testing area or to the next available counter.

If you have been issued with a 'Learner Driver Log Book' ensure it has been completed correctly and bring it with you.

If you have been issued with a 'Learner Driver Digital Log Book' ensure it has been completed correctly, submitted and bring the phone with the application on it with you.

You may be asked to take an eyesight test.

You may be asked to take a breath analysis test if you appear to be under the influence of alcohol or other drugs.

Make sure you ask any questions you may have before your test starts.

After the test When you get back to the testing centre, the testing officer will ask you to go inside and wait for your result. You must not leave the centre, or you may be required to take another test. Your testing officer will call you to the counter and tell you your result.

If you have passed your driving test and if you hold a learner's licence you will be issued with a provisional licence and you should replace your 'L' plates with 'P' plates. If you hold another type of licence you will be issued with the appropriate class of licence, unless the date of issue of your previous licence cannot be determined. Then a provisional licence will be issued.

If you have not passed your driving test your testing officer will discuss your test with you and give you a test report. The report will show your score and where you need to improve. When you drive from the testing centre you must be accompanied by an unrestricted licence holder, who holds a licence for the class of vehicle (or higher) you are driving.
